Details

A $3.8 million, 12,500 square foot church in Ligonier, Pennsylvania.

In 13 months, A. Martini & Co. built this 650-seat church with an atrium to connect the church to the existing school. The ceiling, with a center reaching 50', has exposed timber trusses. The project also features built-in wooden benches in the Naive, a hardwood platform for the altar, and stained glass windows - including an 11'-diameter Rose window.

Throughout the project, A. Martini & Co. coordinated activities to reduce traffic and safety issues. They also performed sitework and doubled the size of the parking lot.
